I began playing the guitar at the age of 14, initially inspired by the rock music of the former Yugoslavia. Growing up in a family of musicians, my father, a singer and accordion player, and my brother, also an accordionist, greatly influenced my musical path.

In 2019, I moved to Norway, continuing my musical journey and sharing my love for music with new audiences. In Norway, I started playing in a project called “Marihøne Airlines,” and we have performed together at various festivals, including the Bergen International Music Festival, Rabalder Festival in Tromsø, and the Bergen International Festival. We also play children’s concerts and gypsy jazz. Additionally, I work as a guitar teacher, sharing my knowledge and passion for music with students.
