reshail mansoor

Reshail Mansoor is a classical vocalist. His musical roots can be traced back to his teacher & mentor Ustad Harbajian Singh Bansal under whom he studied the fine art of North Indian classical & semi classical vocal music for almost 2 decades.

Later Reshail had the opportunity to receive Khayal gaiki training from the Late Ustad Fateh Ali Khan (1935-2017) of Patiala Gharana in Pakistan.

Raga music of the subcontinent is at the centre of Reshail's musical universe. The performances are rooted in melodic raga compositions coupled by complex yet captivating rhythms.

His musical heritage can be traced back to the 16th century, unfolding the mystic raga based genres such as khayal, thumri, ghazal & sufi kalam (lyrics) aiming to create serenity through soulful and dynamic musical renditions & soundscapes.

He has contributed with many Raga - Fusion based performances & collaborations with a number of international artists during the past years.

Reshail's broader vision is to promote peace through music.
